KEY OBJECTIVES

Stimulate and support teachers in acquiring content knowledge and skills related to teaching European values.

Identify core European values and integrate them into a cross-curricular approach.

Provide teachers with opportunities to experience and teach European values in various settings.

Develop effective tools for teachers and educators to engage students with core values, such as theatre plays and exercises/games.

Create awareness among students and teachers of the importance of developing and exemplifying common European values.
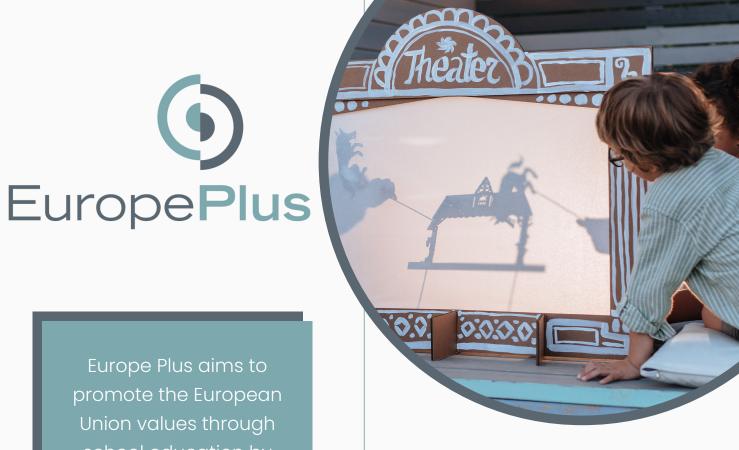

Develop materials based on a box of values to teach European values through exercises and games.

EuropePlus

Europe Plus aims to promote the European Union values through school education by empowering teachers and pupils with the tools to make those values effective and practical.

Background

TEACHING COMMON VALUES IN EUROPE

According to the recommendations made by the Research for CULT Committee in 2017, each nation should try to find a good balance between policy steering and giving autonomy to schools. The perspective of steering expresses what society expects from all schools with regard to teaching common values.

Autonomy, on the other hand, gives schools the space to develop their own pedagogical vision for developing values, within their own context, through the active involvement of teachers and students.

Schools should be at the centre of their community and serve as the pedagogical engine for community development. Parents, community groups and NGOs should surround the school and partner up in educating young people
